At Boulder Valley Church of Christ, we wanted to give students the ability to focus on an area they were hoping to grow, while giving experience in other church ministries. You'll be able to work with under our Lead Minister Rob Duncan, youth minister for 20+ years and renowned speaker. You'll also have the chance to work with our Student Minister Brad Eason, youth minister for 10+ years, and grow your creativity, teaching skills, and aid him as he directs Camp Champion, an immersive camp for 200+ middle school students. And whether you prefer acapella or instrumental, you can explore and experience both forms of worship with Matt Eldred, who has worked with traveling groups for both. Our children's minister is Kirsten Eason who was trained under the prestigious Cal Farley's Boy's Ranch Chaplaincy Program and has done incredible work implementing a vision for Explorer's Children's Ministry and creating an amazing VBS. Amy Kendall has recently launched our College Ministry from the ground up and has worked as a missionary, minister, instructor at Colorado Christian University, and has published resources for adopting children internationally. Previous interns have even grown in graphic design as they worked under a designer at the local firm, Voltage.

The intern is responsible for raising their own income, but we will provide housing and a large number of meals throughout the summer. We try to equip you as much as possible to make raising funds an easy process! Previous interns have never had an issue raising funds.
