

Intern Job Description – Taylor St. Church of Christ – Hobbs, NM

My name is Lance Havens. I have been blessed to be the Youth Minister at the Taylor St. Church of Christ in Hobbs for the last 15+ years. This congregation is my home and I love and work with these kids like I would want someone to do for my own children.

Our internship is viewed as an apprenticeship, not an “assistanceship.” The primary purpose of this position is so you can “learn to do what I do.” You will be given escalating responsibilities as the summer progresses, be involved in all planning and preparation, and will be included in most elder/minister meetings.

All candidates should have a vibrant spiritual life, incredible work ethic, demonstrate personal initiative, sound judgment, above average interpersonal skills, punctuality, and most of all an ability to appropriately love and lead our teens.

In addition to the summer position, arrangements can be made for you to serve the Taylor St. Teens on some weekends leading up to the actual summer internship. This will be an opportunity for you to have an “on-ramp” in getting to know our teens and church culture before the busyness of summer, in addition to earning some extra money (we will pay an honorarium and mileage for all trips to Hobbs prior to the summer).

We offer a competitive weekly salary and housing in the recently remodeled college dormitories at New Mexico Junior College. Housing is subject to change due to COVID-19 restrictions.

You can get to know more about our group by finding us on the web at www.hobbschuch.com or find us on FaceBook at Taylor Street Church of Christ Youth Group.

Regardless of where you end up this summer, I wish you grace and peace in the name of our Lord Jesus Christ.
